Honor Flight Report — From Joyce Fedor-Morek: My husband, Stan Morek, went on the Chicago Honor Flight last Wednesday. It was the most memorable and emotional experience he has had. We met him at Midway Airport along with about 500 other people and 2 bands. The people who volunteer for this organization are unbelievable so I am recommending they take over the presidency and Congress! So, thank you for letting us know about this; and if you know any other WW II vets, let them know. It is something they will never forget!

A shocking exposé of how pharmaceutical companies use patent law to keep profits unconscionably high even at the expense of peoples' lives, and a plea for universal access to affordable, life-saving generic medicines. An intricate tale of “medicine, monopoly and malice”, FIRE IN THE BLOOD tells the story of how Western pharmaceutical companies and governments aggressively blocked access to affordable AIDS drugs for the countries of Africa and the global south in the years after 1996 - causing ten million or more unnecessary deaths. It is also the inspiring story of the improbable group of people who decided to fight back. Shot on four continents and including contributions from global figures such as President Bill Clinton, Bishop Desmond Tutu and economist Joseph Stiglitz, FIRE IN THE BLOOD is the never-before-told true story of the remarkable coalition which came together to stop 'the Crime of the Century' and save millions of lives.

Year 2014 marks the centennial of the start of World War I. The second decade of the 20th century was tumultuous both in history and art history.

Artists in France, Italy and Germany competed for leadership in the modernist art movement. Displaying great diversity and creativity, Picasso, Kandinsky, Duchamp, Boccioni and others established the dominant paths their successors would follow for a century. Learn about this exciting art historical period from art historian, Jeff Mishur. Registration Required
