We’re working on our Summer study group schedule at this time and we are asking for study group proposals. Click Here to access the proposal form. Send them to Steve Wolf at stevengwolf@att.net or drop them off in the Center. The deadline is April 30, 2015.

As you go through this issue of the Update, you’ll notice that we have a number of activities planned for members in the coming months. We have an Antique Show, the Cubs game, a Travel Club trip, and several events that have not been announced yet. Give these events your consideration. We have members working hard in the background to make sure you have options for a quality experience here at ICLRU.

By the way, why not tell a friend or neighbor about us and have them join the ICLRU experience with you.
