If You're Looking for Something to do on Tuesday, May 17 at 1 pm

Arlington Heights Senior Center 1801 W. Central Rd — The Forum presents ICLRU Member, Bob Long, in a presentation entitled A Technologist's View of Economic Cycles and Future Possibilities — 1873, 1930 and Now: We're in the Ditch Again—How to Get Out! Bob will discuss how powerful waves of technology create positive and negative economic cycles. Properly understood, these technological waves can drive gigantic improvements. Misunderstood, they can bring about our demise. Among his many accomplishments, Bob built some of the first banking computer simulation models. He authored two books, Artificial Intelligence in Commercial Lending and Secrets of High Performing Banks. He has lectured throughout Europe and the US on automation, management and future scenarios. Arrive at 12:30 pm for music with pianist, Thomas Gray. ADVANCE REGISTRATION REQUESTED: Please stop by the Main Office of the Senior Center or call 1.847.253.5532 to register for the program.
