

ICL INSTITUTE FOR CONTINUED LEARNING

YOUR ROAD TO LEARNING ADVENTURES

Members join in non-credit study groups where there are

◆ NO Exams! ◆ NO Grades! ◆ NO Pressure!

... but there IS lots of camaraderie and the joy of sharing knowledge with other interesting people.

ICL classes are held at the Roosevelt University Schaumburg Campus.

The campus
building is one-story
with many amenities.

The atmosphere is relaxed and ample free parking is close by.

Let your mind travel the knowledge highway!

Many people who are in or approaching retirement are thinking about how they can make the best of their golden years. We suggest using that time to learn and experience some of the things you just never got around to doing during your working or parenting years.

Mature learners age 55+ will enjoy the stress-free learning environment at ICLRU.

Study Group Topics

What is ICLRU?

The Institute for Continued Learning at Roosevelt University (ICLRU) is a membership organization comprised of people 55+ who want to keep their minds active and involved.

Members pay one nominal annual fee for unlimited participation in year-round study groups.

Choose from a wide range of interesting study groups. They meet once a week and last about 2 hours.

Study groups are designed and coordinated by members, often with supplementary documentaries and video lectures by leading college professors. Attendees are encouraged to ask questions and make comments during the sessions, but there is never any pressure to do so..

Also...

In addition to study groups, membership includes free unlimited admission to special lectures, an ice cream social, community read activities, domestic and international travel clubs, and special interest book clubs. The two large annual social events, the Summer Picnic and Winter Holiday Party are a lot of fun, great for socializing and available for a small fee.

Other activities available for a fee are field trips to local cultural attractions, theatre performances and professional baseball games.
